Japanese School Question in California

Inst. 116.

Feb. 2, 1907.
Ithaca, New York.

And. D. White.
Suggests as a solution of the school question on the Pacific Coast the establishment of national schools which should be made attractive to our own people, but to which people of Asiatic nations should be freely admitted. Names Nicholas Murray Butler, Andrew Draper, or Ben. Wheeler as eminently competent to institute the work. Referred to Dept. by the President.
