

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

July 13, 1907.

My dear Mr. Adee:

The enclosed copy of cablegram from Minister Rockhill was transmitted to the President, and I have just received a telegram from Oyster Bay stating that Mr. Rockhill should be informed that "there is no need for cabling."

Very truly yours,

Rudolph Forster
Assistant Secretary to the President.

Hon. A. A. Adee,
Acting Secretary of State.
